BOOTCAMP EDITION

Please note the following rules and code of conduct:

Payment Schedule:

Please make sure to complete your payments (with proof) on time to remain part of the Bootcamp Cohort. As a community of dedicated professionals, we kindly ask for your cooperation in making prompt payments to avoid the need for further reminders.

- We will send out the payment reminder on the 30th of each month, while the deadline for the payment will be the 3rd of the month.
- Kindly note that payment is due by the 5th of the month. To ensure your continued participation, please make sure to meet this deadline. If payment is not received on time, your enrollment may be automatically canceled.
- Always upload your payment receipts in the given form for each month. Until and unless you do not send a receipt, we will not count it as payment completed for the respective month

Note: We will send a reminder on 15th, and the deadline will be the 20th. To avoid any inconvenience, please pay on time if you are on the installment plan.

Assignments:

Assignment submissions help us evaluate your dedication to building your Data Analytics skills, your performance in class, and also allow us to help you where it is most needed. An assignment can be expected almost every week.

- You will be notified every time an assignment is uploaded on the Google Classroom, with its due date mentioned.
- Every assignment submission is compulsory within the deadline, otherwise we may consider you unfit for future modules of the Bootcamp.
- In case you must miss a deadline due to personal constraints, you need to inform your Bootcamp Coordinator. We will be happy to assist you and give you the support you need.
- If you are consistently missing assignment deadlines without informing us with valid reasons, we may have to unfortunately remove you from the cohort.

Attendance:

Please note that attending all classes and guest lectures is compulsory.

- All participants must have at least 75% attendance of classes throughout the cohort.
- We understand sometimes you may have to miss classes due to personal reasons and other commitments - please try to inform us beforehand. You are allowed a certain number of excused absences, as long as assignments are being completed on time and we are made aware of your situation.
- If you are missing classes consistently without informing us with valid reasons, you will be considered inactive and we may have to remove you from the cohort.

Class Participation:

You are encouraged to actively participate in all classes, including guest lectures. This helps us gauge your dedication and eagerness to learn, and will make you stand out for future placements when we begin referring students for data Analytics related jobs and projects. Participating in group activities in class is compulsory. If you are unresponsive during a class activity or when called out, you will be considered absent on the day.

Collaboration with your fellow Bootcamp participants is highly encouraged. However, you must remain within respectful boundaries. There is a zero tolerance policy at atomcamp for disrespect, discrimination, or harassment of any form. If we receive complaints or observe any inappropriate behavior, you will be removed immediately.

Feedback and Evaluations:

Team atomcamp may share evaluation or reflection forms during or after sessions at any point throughout the Bootcamp. You will be notified with their deadline and they will be compulsory to submit on time. You are encouraged to share your feedback formally and informally at any point as well. If you face any issues with the course material, execution, or team conduct, please let us know and we will look into it.
